Lebb went to the hotel last night. This morning he began throwing furniture from the windows to the street. Several persons narrowly escaped being struck. Then he began firing a shotgun. He placed $50 and $100 bills in the muzzle of the weapon and fragments of the paper were scattered over the street. The big crowd quickly gathered, and hundreds of men were prevented from passing the place by fear of being killed.

Street car traffic was entirely suspended, after one car had been fired upon, and its windows broken.

Police Lieutenant Green rushed a strong squad to the scene, among the officers being five members of the crack rifle team of the department. They were unable to accomplish anything, however, as the maniac was strongly intrenched in his room and appeared to have an unlimited amount of amunition.

STEPS BEING TAKEN FOR AN ARMISTICE

Negotiations Are Now In Progress Says Report.

PRESIDENT IS MUCH INTERESTED

Washington, June 22.—It is intimated in official circles here that negotiations are proceeding looking to an armistice between Japan and Russia.

Conference in St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—1:30 p. m.—President Roosevelt evidently has taken a new and important step in the negotiations between the belligerents. While there are collateral reasons for believing that it relates to an armistice which will prevent the impending battle in Manchuria this cannot be positively affirmed. All that can be stated definitely is that Ambassador Meyer went suddenly to the foreign office late last night and had an interview with Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, at which it is believed the ambassador comunicated an important message from President Roosevelt, but at neither the foreign office nor the American embassy is the slightest light thrown on what transpired.

From the extreme secrecy observed, the matter beyond doubt, is of the greatest delicacy, but as the statement is vouchsafed at the foreign office that the negotiations are proceedings without a hitch, the inference follows that it relates to a new phase in which the president has again taken the initiative. This is the more certain since the communications of the selection of place, time and the number of the plenipotentiaries which are conducted naturally through Ambassadors Cassini and Minister Takahira, through the intermediary of the Washington government, whereas, according to diplomatic proceedure only communications from the Washington government reach Foreign Minister Lamsdorff through Ambassador

The stumbling block in the way of an armistice appears to be that neither belligerent is willing to take the initiative. The present negotiations consist of an effort to sound one or both governments as to their willingness to agree to an armistice. There will be no official announcement here regarding the probabilities of an armistice before the president returns, nor is it certain that even then there will be anything to make public. The feeling in official circles here is strongly in favor of a cessation of hostilities, as it is believed a clash before convening a peace conference would hamper the work of the plenipotentiaries and might prove a serious menace to their efforts for peace.

Labor Federation in Session.

Atlanta, June 22.—The annual convention of the Georgia State Federation of Labor will convene this morning in the hall of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, 14½ North Forsyth street. The program which has been arranged for the opening exercises is very elaborate and it includes among the list of speakers some of the most prominent men in the state.

J. R. Hewitt, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, will preside over the meeting. The first speaker to be called upon will be Governor Joseph M. Terrell. Following him will come in succession Mayor James G. Woodward and other prominent Georgians.

Broke Limb Thirty-Third Time.

Griffin, Ga., June 22.—John Oliver, a young white man who lives near Orchard Hill, this county, broke his arm Monday. This is the thirty-third time he has broken his arm or leg. He has what are called soft bones, and can stand no fall or strain. His legs and arms are in a very crooked condition now and he claims that he holds the world's record for broken bones.

PRISONER IS SHOT WHILE ESCAPING

REFUSED TO HALT WHEN TOLD

Only Sent to Convict Camp Last Monday—Feigned Sickness to Foil the Guard—Bullet Struck a Vital Spot and He Died Instantly.

Because Andrew Booth, a white convict at the McDonald naval stores camp, Fairbanks, tried to escape from the sentence which had been imposed upon him, he was Thursday shot and instantly killed by a guard in the discharge of his duty.

Booth was arraigned in Justice Henderson's court at Newberry Monday upon a simple charge of assault, and was sentenced to spend a term of three months in prison. Rather than work out this short time, he risked his life and lost it.

This occurred late Thursday evening. From the best information obtainable it appears that Booth claimed he was feeling sick, and asked permission of the guard to lay down in the grass for a few minutes. This request was granted, but the attention of the guard was called in some other direction, when Booth jumped up and started to run. The guard commanded him three times to halt, warning him that he would fire. The man failed to stop, however, and after due warning the guard fired, the shot taking effect, and Booth died instantly.

ARNOW WANTS BIDS.

Has Ten New Mailing Boxes Which He Desires to Install.

Postmaster Arnow wants to give somebody a job. He has just received ten new mailing boxes, with posts, and he wants them set in stated positions about the city.

In speaking of the free mail delivery system yesterday, Postmaster Arnow stated that the system was growing more popular every day, that there was a demand for more mailing boxes, that he had made a requisition for ten and had secured same.

The person who sets these boxes must get the job by bid. The bids will be submitted to the department at Washington, and the fellow who makes the best bid is the fellow who will ge the contract.

The posts are steel, and are to be set three feet in the ground. To these posts the boxes are to be securely fastened, all material for such purpose being furnished by the government. Bids are asked, and the postmaster will be glad to give particulars upon application.

The combination letter and package boxes recently established here are proving of great advantage to the public, and Postmaster Arnow declares that he will make requisition for others as soon as they are required by the service.

A HEALTHY OLD AGE

OFTEN THE BEST PART OF LIFE

Help for Women Passing Through Change of Life

Providence has allotted us each at least seventy years in which to fulfill our mission in life, and it is generally our own fault if we die prematurely.

Nervous exhaustion invites disease. This statement is the positive truth.

When everything becomes a burden and you cannot walk a few blocks without excessive fatigue, and you break out into perspiration easily, and your face flushes, and you grow excited and shaky at the least provocation, and you cannot bear to be crossed in anything, you are in danger; your nerves have given out; you need building up at once! To build up woman's nervous system and during the period of change of life we know of no better medicine than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is an illustration. Mrs. Mary L. Koehne, 371 Garfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years in my family and it never disappoints; so when I felt that I was nearing the change of life I commenced treatment with it. I took in all about six bottles and it did me a great deal of good. It stopped my dizzy spells, pains in my back and the headaches with which I had suffered for months before taking the Compound. I feel that if it had not been for this great medicine for women that I should not have been alive to-day. It is splendid for women, old or young, and will surely cure all female disorders."

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick and ailing women to write her for advice. Her great experience is at their service, free of cost.

BEALL AT BATTLE CREEK.

Commodore Beall, who spends about half his time in this city and feels that he is "one of us," is now sojourning for a few weeks at Battle Creek, Mich., and sends his friend, the city editor of The Sun, a souvenir postal of that favorite resort, which is one of the most famous in the world for various complications of diseases. While Commodore Beall is on an average very healthy, and as jolly as he is healthy, he has been affected for the past few months with a slight stomach trouble, and, being very proud and sensitive about this special party of his anatomy, decided to try the sanitarium for a few weeks.

Commodore Beall is a native of Uniontown, Pa., where is a prominent capitalist. Notwithstanding that he has important business interests there, he spends the majority of the time with his friends in other places, and his friends here feel complimented that he is here half the time and calls himself a "Gainesvillian."

It is hoped that Commodore Beall will be greatly benefited by his sojourn at Battle Creek.

JUDGE MASON'S COURT.

Two Important Cases Were Disposed of Thursday—A Whiskey Case.

Robert Emerson, colored, was arraigned in the court of Judge Mason Thursday upon a charge of selling liquor in a dry county, and was placed under a bond of $200 for his appearance before the grand jury at the fall term of the court.

Emerson was arrested by Marshal Chas. Pinkoson in May by instruction of the United States marshal at Ocala, who stated that he was selling whiskey on a train of the Seaboard Air Line. Marshal Pinkoson had telegraphic instruction, and when the train for Cedar Key reached Gainesville the man was arrested, and Marshal Pinkoson alleges that thirty-five bottles of whiskey were found in his grip. The man was taken to Ocala, convicted, and served four months, and as soon as his sentence expired in the United States court he was turned into the custody of the authorities here.

Another case before Judge Mason was that of T. R. Pickett & Son vs. W. M. Davidson, petition for removal of tenant, which resulted in a mistrial a few days ago and which was called for another hearing Thursday.

The case was tried by jury as follows: Geo. I. Doig, foreman; J. B. Dell, R. B. Peeler, C. V. McKinstry, H. Pinkoson and A. L. Vidal.

After hearing the testimony and argument in the case, a verdict was brought in for the plaintiffs. Attorney J. M. Rivers appeared for the plaintiffs, while Attorney Thrasher represented the defendant.

Dying of Famine

Is, in its torments, like dying of consumption. The progress of consumption, from the beginning to the very end, is a long torture, both to victim and friends. "When I had consumption in its first stage," writes Wm. Myers of Cearfoss, Md., "after trying different medicines and a good doctor, in vain, I at last took Dr. King's New Discovery, which quickly and perfectly cured me." Prompt relief and sure cure for coughs, colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc. Positively prevents pneumonia. Guaranteed at all drug stores. Price 50c and $1 a bottle. Trial bottle free.

Wilson's Big Sale.

Attention is directed to the big sale at Mrs. R. Wilson's which will begin today and continue for five days. This sale will be one of the best bargain-givers ever offered to the people of Gainesville, as will be seen by reference to the prices. It will pay prospective customers to investigate this advertisement.

Stimulation Without Irritation.

In case of stomach and liver trouble the proper treatment is to stimulate these organs without irritating them. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels without irritating these organs like pills, or ordinary cathartics. It does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. J. W. McCollum & Company.

A PROMINENT VISITOR.

Ex-Lieut. Governor Tillman Spending a Short Time Here.

Among the prominent visitors to this city is Hon. James H. Tillman of Edgefield, ex-lieutenant governor of South Carolina and one of the most widely known and most successful attorneys of the Palmetto State.

Col. Tillman came here on professional business, having been employed to defend Jim Henry, a negro who was arrested in South Carolina and brought here a few weeks ago upon a charge of murder committed in Grove Park in December of the past year. Col. Tillman states that he has known of the negro for many years, that he knew his family, and that the man had always been in South Carolina, his home, a good character—in fact, the best of any colored man in the section in which he resided. Henry's people are prosperous, law-abiding citizens, and for that reason he has decided to defend him.

Col. Tillman states that this is his first visit to Gainesville and that he is well pleased with the city and its people as far as he has met them. He was the center of attraction at the Brown House yesterday afternoon and last night, during which he was introduced to a number of our prominent citizens and members of the bar. He expects to remain here for two or three days.

Mid-Winter Fair at Tampa.

The Mid-Winter Fair, which is to be held at Tampa November 13th to 25th inclusive, is in reality a State fair and undoubtedly will have exhibits from nearly every county in the State. The products of the counties of Florida will be an attraction worth seeing, and by this means many people who are seeking a location may find what they most desire in the various industries and products of the soil.

Alachua county should be represented by an exhibit, as there is no denying the fact that we have as good an agricultural county as there is in the State.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret that for cuts, burns, ulcers, fever sores, sore eyes, boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O. K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory of Hope, Tex. 25c at all drug stores.

Gainesville Citizen Honored.

At the meeting of the Supreme Lodge of Knights of Honor of the United States, held at Atlanta, Ga., during the past week, Mr. L. J. Burkhim of this city, who was a delegate, was elected a member of the Committee on Good of the Order. This is one of the most important committees in the supreme body. The next meeting will be held in Atlantic City, N. J., in June, 1907.

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

The bonding question for good roads is the topic for discussion in many portions of the State at the present time. Some of our best business men realize the fact that good roads are necessary to settle the farming lands. There are many hundred acres of land near Gainesville that would be occupied if they were accessible. Good roads are all that the country needs to induce farmers to come here. We have the good lands.

The lawyer who tries to have his brother of the bar restrained from the practice of his profession because he may be a trifle more persevering in a case than his opponent deserves almost a like punishment if he fails to show up a clear case. If such proceeding should happen to come before an incompetent judge—and what is meant by incompetent is a judge not entirely free from prejudice—the career of such an attorney would be at an end. The recent disbarment cases in this State, both of which have been too flimsy to be recognized in any court, have shown poor taste on the part of those who have been the instigators of them.

LOCATION OF UNIVERSITY.

The following letter, which appeared in The Jacksonville Times-Union of Wednesday, will no doubt set at ease the minds of many in regard to the health of Gainesville:

Editor Times-Union: In Sunday's Times-Union the entire space for the discussion of the question of the location of the State University was occupied by an article signed by F. B. Moodie of Lake City in which some statements are made that are rather startling, and which I am afraid would give the gentleman some discomfiture if he were called on to prove them. Some of these statements are only wild—others might be termed hysterical. In the latter class I place his statements in reference to the "malarial atmosphere" of Gainesville, and the amazing low death rate of Lake City, "the lowest of any place in the United States, save one, a small place somewhere in California!" If the gentleman will kindly give to the public health officials throughout the country his ponderous volumes of vital statistics, by which he makes accurate comparison of the death rate of Lake City with that of every other rural community in the forty-odd States of the Union, they will thank him. Such information is not obtainable through any other known source.

As to the "malarial atmosphere" of Gainesville, I will let the thousands who have breathed it, and still live to tell the tale, answer. I was born in it and have breathed it for a good many years, and never had a chill or any other malarial symptom in my life. Perhaps I am a little biased. We'll let that pass—the statement, like many others in the article, is not susceptible of proof. The gentleman goes on to dwell upon the statement that "Lake City has the lowest death rate of any place in the United States, save one—a small place SOMEWHERE in California." I challenge this statement, and respectfully ask the gentleman by what authority he makes it? The only statistics obtainable on the subject are those in the office of the State Board of Health, the State health officer being the registrar of vital statistics of the State of Florida, and all physicians, nurses, coroners, etc., are required by law to report all deaths to that office. The records of deaths in towns the size of Lake City, which do not maintain a city board of health, are not kept separately, but are compiled with those of the county in which such towns are located. Therefore, I do not see how the gentleman made his comparisons and found that "Lake City has the lowest death rate of any place in the United States, save one—a small place somewhere in California."

For the five years ending December 31, 1898, the average yearly death rate per thousand of population in Columbia county was 7.52; in Alachua county for the same period it was 5.36. Since this period, while the rate has varied from year to year, the relatively lower rate of Alachua county seems to have been maintained. For instance, in 1903 the death rate in Alachua county was only 1.95, while in Columbia county it was 8.56. During the same period there were reported to the State Board of Health from Columbia county (population 17,094) 37 deaths from malarial fever; Alachua county for the same time (population 32,245) had 31 deaths from malarial fever. In 1902, Columbia county had 9 deaths from malarial fever; Alachua county had 2. During the same year, Columbia county had 78 deaths from all causes, or 4.32 per thousand of the population, while Alachua county had 71 deaths from all causes, or 2.14 per thousand of the population.

Please understand that I do not mean to say that Lake City is not a healthy town. I have every reason to believe it is. All Florida is healthy; the annual death rate for the entire State is less than 10 per thousand of the population. I only wish to show that the basis for the statements made by the gentleman with so much fulsomeness, that Gainesville is in a "malarial atmosphere," and that "Lake City has the lowest death rate of any place in the United States, save one—a small place somewhere in California," is of the stuff that dreams are made of—flimsy.

Gainesville, Fla., June 19, 1905.

During the first week of the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland, Ore., there was a daily attendance averaging more than 10,000 people. This average does not include the attendance of 89,577 on the opening day. The attendance during the second week was considerably larger than that of the first week, the admissions on one day falling but a few short of 20,000. This is considered a very gratifying attendance. As time goes on the admissions increase from day to day, which shows that the people of the Pacific Northwest are taking a patriotic interest in their big show. But there are many visitors from far Eastern States, and even from Europe, while the hotel bookings show that in the weeks to come the attendance from far distant points will be very much larger than it is at present.

The Washington cotton report of Tuesday says that "further improvement of cotton is generally indicated throughout the cotton belt. The crop is in a good state of cultivation, although some fields continue foul in portions of the central and western districts and in Florida. As a rule good growth is reported but the plant continues small. Lice are still prevalent in North Carolina. Considerable damage by web worms is reported from Oklahoma and Indian Territory. Boll weevil is spreading in Northwestern Texas but generally the damage is not great."

AN ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

Negro Tried to Enter Home of L. A. Jernigan and Was Chased.

A bold burglary was attempted almost in the heart of the city just before 12 o'clock Tuesday night.

L. A. Jernigan and family have a custom to retire early, because they are early risers. Tuesday night was rather warm and Mr. Jernigan could not sleep. A few minutes before midnight he heard a racket in the kitchen, and, believing that it was a cat, carelessly approached the room. Imagine his surprise to see the form of a man rapidly exit from a window. Mr. Jernigan rushed back to his own room and in a jiffy secured his faithful gun, making chase. When he got outside the moon was shining brightly and he could see the fleeing figure a hundred yards in front of him, but notwithstanding that he exercised every effort, the would-be burglar was too fleet and made his escape in the vicinity of the Seaboard Air Line depot, after an exciting race of several blocks.

Mr. Jernigan states that he shot at the fleeing burglar several times, but was unable to stop him. He does not believe that the man secured anything, owing to the fact that his plans were interrupted. He was positive that it was a colored man, however, as he was sufficiently near two or three times during the chase to distinguish the color.

E. C. McMahan, who has a reputation for being full of jokes, etc, declares good-naturedly that "there was nothing doing at Louis Jernigan's house," and that Mr. Jernigan was chasing the burglar with a view of making him divide up if he found anything.

SEEKING INFORMATION.

A Teacher Desires to Know a Few Things.

Editor Sun: At the April meeting of the Alachua County Board of Public Instruction a resolution was passed to the effect that no teacher who had taught outside of the county during the winter term should be assigned to a summer school in the county, unless he should sign a contract to teach the winter term of that school as well, it being given out that the board wished to favor those teachers who are faithful to teach in this county, and would give them the preference in the assignment of summer work.

Since only those schools which pay small salaries and run for only five months have summer terms, no teacher able to command a good salary who has taught outside the county could afford to accept summer work in this county on those terms, and hence the ruling is, as it was intended to be, a sufficient barrier to prevent those who taught outside the county from receiving any favors in the way of summer work in this county. This by way of explanation.

In a recent issue of The Sun we noticed that a certain teacher who taught in the county last term has been assigned to one of the best paying summer schools in the county, who has, to our knowledge, accepted a school in another county for the winter term, which school he secured upon the recommendation of the superintendent of this county.

Now will some one, upon whom rests the responsibility for the making of the ruling above cited, please rise and explain how the fact of the assignment mentioned is reconciled with it seeing that the teacher in question is given summer work in this county in the same school year, the winter term of which, as the board knows, he intends to teach in another county? In the name of all that is reasonable and consistent, why is the discrimination made in the one case and not in the other, or why do the circumstances of the one justify the action more than do those of the other?

If there is a reason for this let it be given. If not, let those responsible remain in the light in which they are now placed in the eyes of all people of common sense. "FAIR PLAY."

A Thousand Dollars' Worth of Good.

"I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain," says A. H. Thurnes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O. A few doses started the brick-dust-like substance and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1,000 worth of good." Foley's Kidney Cure will cure every form of kidney or bladder disease. J. W. McCollum & Co.

LOOMIS IS EXONERATED.

Bowen's Charges Against Him Prove a Boomerang.

Washington, June 22.—The dismissal of Herbert W. Bowen, for some years United States minister to Venezuela and the exoneration of Assistant Secretary of State Francis R. Loomis, of the allegations brought against him by Mr. Bowen are the outcome of the Bowen-Loomis controversy which has attracted wide attention for many months past. This disposition of the case is made by President Rosevelt in a letter addressed to Secretary Taft made public approving Mr. Taft's report on his findings and conclusions in the case.

The president scathingly arraigns Minister Bowen, declaring that his conduct "is especially reprehensible;" that Mr. Bowen asked one of his witnesses to enter the employ of a certain company for the purpose, "in plain words, of stealing documents which he hoped might incriminate Mr. Loomis, and that Mr. Bowen has evidently, for many months, indeed, for the last two years, devoted his time to hunting up scandal and gossip until it became a momonania and caused him to show complete disloyalty to the country he represented."

EQUITABLE OFFICIALS RESIGN.

Alexander and Hyde Leave Company by Request.

New York, June 22.—Following quickly the institution of a new and independent investigation of the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, by direction of Paul Morton, chairman of the board of directors, came the announcement by Mr. Morton that he had accepted the resignation of James W. Alexander as president, and James H. Hyde as vice president of the company.

These resignations with those of Second Vice President Gage E. Tarbell, Third Vice President George T. Wilson, Fourth Vice President McTyre and Secretary H. R. Winthrop, were placed in the hands of Mr. Morton at the meting of the board of directors at which he was elected chairman of the board, with plenary power over all the affairs of the society.

Dead Man Guilty of Forgery.

Philadelphia, June 22.—One of the most sensational cases of forgery that has ever been brought to light in financial circles of this city was disclosed when it was announced that certificates calling for small numbers of shares of stock had been fraudulently raised to hundred of shares, causing a loss to certain bank and trust companies of this city of from $750,000 to $1,000,000. The forgery involves the name of Benjamin H. Gaskill, who died four weeks ago. Gaskill was the sole member of the banking and brokerage concern known as Benjamin H. Gaskill & Co. He had offices in the financial district and his credit was considered gilt-edged.

Prominent Texan Paralyzed.

Austin, Tex., June 22.—Ex-Governor Frank Lubbock, one of the most prominent men in Texas, at the advanced age of 86 years, was stricken today with paralysis. It may be possible, it is said, that he will linger for a day or two, but the attending physicians assert that his advance age gives no hope of recovery.

Boston, June 22.—The Massachusetts supreme court today handed down a decision holding that the attempt to force all laborers to combine in unions is against the policy of the law, because it aims at a monopoly of the labor market.

ROOSEVELT IN BAY STATE.

Where He Goes to Deliver an Address To Clark University.

Worcester, Mass., June 22.—The president's train arrived at 9:28. The committee of citizens headed by Lieutenant Governor Curtis Giuld, Jr., and Mayor W. H. Blodgett immediately boarded the president's car to extend welcome to the state and city.

That the city of Worcester had prepared for an enthusiastic welcome today to the president was evidenced by the extensive decorations of buildings and dwellings in all sections of the municipality, and by the presence on the public streets of large crowds of residents and visitors. President Roosevelt was not due to arrive here until 9:30 o'clock, but long before that hour the streets were filled with people who hoped not only to see but to hear President Roosevelt in connection with his visit today to the Clark university.

The weather early today was disagreeable, a heavy mist falling and the air being very wet

Elaborate precautions had been made for guarding the president while within the precincts of the city. all times, it was planned, the president would be surrounded by a strong cordon of mounted police, while secret service agents, patrolmen and officers in citizens' clothes would afford additional protection.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence county, N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for twelve years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, and passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." J. W. McCollum & Co.

CZAR FAVORS REFORMS.

St. Petersburg, June 21.—12:40 p.m.—The impression produced by Emperor Nicholas' speech Monday at Peroff to the delegation representing the all-Russian congress of zemstvoists and mayors which assembled at Moscow, is reflected in joyful acclaim with which it has been received by the Russian press.

The question of peace and the reports that another great battle had begun in Manchuria have become of secondary importance before the great fact that the emperor has again pledged himself to popular representation. The Russ declared that the history of representative government in Russia dates from Whit-Monday.

A hundred commissions celebrating schemes for reform, the paper continues, "could not inspire the people with as much hope in the future of Russia as the emperor's words to the delegation, whose members were characterized by the reactionaries as traitors, conspirators and revolutionists. The fight is not yet won. The bureaucracy will not capitulate without a further struggle, but the most important step for political regeneration has been taken."

Want Greek Consul Removed.

San Francisco, June 22.—A petition signed by 575 representative Greeks and Greek business men of this city, has been forwarded to King George, of Greece, asking for the removal of the present Greek consul in this city, John Kapsimallis, who is also a contractor, with having arranged with certain railroad officials to only employ such Greek laborers as have paid the consul fee from $4 to $50.

Women Keep Death Compact.

Freeport, Ill., June 22.—Rather than be separated from each other, Media Pyle, a 16-year-old girl, and Mrs. John Young, 28 years of age, agreed to die together. They carried out their strange compact of death, and their bodies were found in the Pecatonica river. Mrs. Young exercised a very strange control over the young girl. She lured here from her home and kept her constantly by her side.

Will Cure Consumption.

A. A. Herren, Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." You never heard of anyone using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied. J. W. McCollum & Co.

BLACK LETTER.

...f Texts Used In Printing the Fatherland.

...able that so practical a ...Germans should continue ... blind black letter," says ...art. "The German text is ...d when printed from small ...on dingy paper with high speed ...es, as is the case with most daily ...ewspapers, it is difficult to decipher. Ever since the days of Cadmus alphabets have been designed to convey ideas, and those alphabets which transfer thought with the most quickness, clearness and precision are the best. Considered from these standpoints the German alphabet is one of the worst. That it is a failure is shown unconsciously in many ways. Advertisers, for example, have no sentiment about them. They want to reach the reader and reach him quickly. Therefore nearly all the display advertisements in German newspapers are printed in Latin characters.

"So, too, with the commercial and financial pages. Stockbrokers and merchants have no time to waste in deciphering badly printed German text. Therefore the commercial page in the German dailies is now nearly always set up in Roman type. Circus advertisements, theater placards and advertising posters generally, the names of streets on the corner signs, the lettering on cars and omnibuses, even temporary signs, such as 'No Thoroughfare' or 'Street Closed,' you nearly always see in Latin characters.

"Another proof of the inferiority of the German text is the fact that nearly all German scientific works are printed in Roman. This has been the case for years, but it has had little effect on the printing of books of a general nature. Bismarck did much to retard this needed improvement, for he clung stubbornly to the German text and frequently sent back books which were printed in Roman, refusing to read them."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

FLOUR IN CHINA.

There It Is Made of Almost Everything Except Wheat.

The Chinese cook stuck the end of an ivory chopstick into a small brown biscuit.

"Taste, sir," he said.

The biscuit was warm, crisp, rich; it was light, well salted, nutritious—a biscuit, in a word, of peculiar excellence.

"This biscuit, sir, is made of flour of lentils," said the Chinaman. "You know lentils? Little green pellets slightly flattened like split peas. Lentils are considered the most nutritious of all the foods of the earth. This one lentil biscuit, sir, is equal in nourishing power to a pound and a half of roast beef."

"Again taste," he said.

The little cake was rich and good.

"It is made, sir, of the flour of almonds," said the cook—"fresh, sweet almonds ground into a white powder between two millstones. Such a flour is a finer thing than your flour of wheat, eh?"

Then he lifted a great lid and revealed some thirty or forty compartments, one filled with a pink flour, another with a yellow one, a third with a brown one, a fourth with a white, a fifth with a pale green, a sixth with a blue, and so on.

"All these are Chinese flours," he said. "In China, sir, we make over fifty kinds of flour. We make flour out of potatoes, out of sweet potatoes, out of peas, out of cocoanuts, out of millet, out of pulse, out of oats, out of bananas—the fact is, sir, we make flour in China out of everything but wheat, for in China, sir, we eat no bread, and therefore the coarse, dry, tasteless flour of wheat is useless to us."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Single and Double.

"This," said the man who was showing the stranger around the city, as he pointed to a broad stretch of beach, "belongs to old Bigspud. It's all made land. That's his house back there on the left."

"Is that on made land, too?" asked the stranger.

Power of the Eye.

An eye can threaten like a loaded and leveled gun or can insult like hissing or kicking, or, in its altered mood, by beams of kindness it can make the heart dance with joy.—Emerson's "Conduct of Life."

His Idea of It.

Auntie—You should ask to be excused when you leave the table. Little Nephew—Should I? I thought from the way you acted about that third piece of pie that you'd be glad to see me go.

MEERSCHAUM PIPES.

A Test by Which to Tell the Genuine From the Spurious.

Once upon a time there was a man who spent eight of the best years of his life coloring a meerschaum pipe, only to find at the end of that period that he had been nursing a piece of "massakopfe" instead of the genuine "ecume de mer." The "massakopfe" is a composition made of the parings of genuine meerschaum and a mineral clay. The parings are triturated to a fine powder, boiled in water and molded into blocks, with or without the addition of clay. Each block is then cut into a bowl, but as it contracts considerably it must be left some time to dry. These bowls are distinguished from the genuine meerschaum by their greater specific gravity, but there is no absolutely certain test by which the real meerschaum can be told from the composition.

In forming a pipe from "ecume de mer" the silicate of magnesia is prepared for the operation by soaking in a composition of wax, oil and fats. The wax and oil absorbed by the meerschaum are the cause of the color produced by smoking. The heat of the burning tobacco causes the wax and fatty substances to pass through the stages of a dry distillation, and, becoming associated with the products of the distillation of the tobacco, they are diffused through the substances of the bowl, producing those gradations of tint which are so much prized. In some cases the bowls are artificially colored by dipping them, before being soaked in wax, in a solution of sulphate of iron, either alone or mixed with dragon's blood.

Good meerschaum is soft enough to be indented by the thumb nail. It yields readily to the knife, especially after having been wetted. There are various densities. Some kinds sink in water; others float on the surface. Those of medium density are preferred by the pipe maker, for the light varieties are porous and even cavernous. Many judges assume that the heavier kinds are spurious, but there is no absolute proof that such is the case. A negative test may be mentioned. The composition bowls never exhibit those little blemishes which result from the presence of foreign bodies in the natural meerschaum. Therefore if a blemish occur in a meerschaum bowl, which is very frequently the case, the genuineness of the bowl is rendered most probable. But as blemishes do not show until after the bowl has been used for some time the test is not of much value.—New York Press.

CURIOUS OATHS.

Odd Ways of Swearing to the Truth of One's Statements.

When a Chinaman swears to tell the truth he kneels down, and a china saucer is given to him. The following oath is then administered: "You shall tell the truth and the whole truth. The saucer is cracked, and if you do not tell the truth your soul will be cracked like the saucer," when he breaks the saucer. Other symbolic variations of the Chinese oath are the extinguishing of a candle or cutting off of a cock's head, the light of the candle representing the witness' soul and the fate of the cock symbolizing the fate of a perjurer.

In certain parts of India tigers' and lizards' skins take the place of the Bible of Christian countries, and the penalty of breaking the oath is that in one case the witness will become the prey of a tiger and in the that his body will be covered scales like a lizard.

In Norwegian courts of law the ... lude to the oath proper is a long homily on the sanctity of the oath and the terrible consequences of not keeping it. When the witness is duly crushed by the sense of his fearful responsibility the oath is administered while he holds aloft his thumb and fore and middle fingers as an emblem of the trinity.

In an Italian court the witness, with his right hand resting on an open Bible, declares, "I will swear to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth." The Mohammedan takes the oath with his forehead reverently resting on the open Koran. He takes his "Bible" in his hand and, stooping low, as if in the presence of a higher power, slowly bows his head until it touches the book which to him is inspired.

In certain parts of Spain the witness when taking an oath crosses the thumb of one hand over the forefinger of the other and, kissing this symbolic, if primitive, cross, says, "By this cross I swear to tell the truth."

Man and the Universe.

Sir William Ramsay, the great English scientist, said: "All our progress since the time of Sir Isaac Newton has not falsified the saying of that great man that we are but children, picking up here and there a pebble from the shore of knowledge, while a whole unknown ocean stretches before our eyes. Nothing can be more certain than that we are just beginning to learn something of the wonders of the world in which we live and move and have our being."

Mahogany.

Dr. Gibbons, an eminent London physician in the latter half of the seventeenth century, had a brother, a West India captain, who brought over in his ship some logs of this wood as ballast.

As the doctor was then building a house in King street, Covent Garden, London, his brother thought they might be of service to him, but the carpenters, finding the wood too hard for their tools, laid the logs aside as useless.

Soon after Mrs. Gibbons wanted a candle box, and the doctor called on his cabinetmaker, Wollaston, in Long Acre, and asked him to make one of some wood lying in his garden. Wollaston also complained that it was too hard. The doctor said he must get stronger tools. The candle box was, however, made and approved, insomuch that the doctor then insisted on having a bureau of the same wood, which was also completed and was so much admired, especially by the Duchess of Buckingham, that the fame of mahogany rapidly rose, and it soon came into general use.

Toed the Mark.

Did he actually ask old Roxley for his daughter's hand?"

"Yes, and he claims he compelled the old man to toe the mark."

"Indeed!"

"Yes, but he was the mark."—Philadelphia Press.

The Explanation.

"Oh, no, she isn't going to accept him."

"Then, why does she encourage him?"

"Why, because there isn't any one else to encourage."—New York Press.
